MLD-2008

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, FBIS

FROM: Chief, London Bureau

THROUGH: Chief, Operations Group

SUBJECT: Monthly Report -- London Bureau -- January 1982

I. GENERAL

- A. The BBC Monitoring Service has embarked on the rocky road to modernization, aimed at introducing an "integrated electronic Monitoring Distribution System within five years. The Monitoring Service is already tied in to an electronic distribution system installed at Bush House, which is soon to be replaced by a sophisticated Message Switching System; and some operations here at Caversham have been handled by word processors for many months, including publication of the World Schedules Section's WBI. At the BBC's request, the bureau has named [redacted] and [redacted] as FBIS contact points for discussions on how the new system will handle FBIS input to BBC and BBC input to FBIS. During a planned early March visit to Headquarters, [redacted] BBC's Editor, News & Publications, and [redacted] a BBC engineer on attachment to the Monitoring Service, will be particularly interested in learning about our experience with MIDAS and how it might relate to the BBC modernization scheme.
- B. On the recruiting front, we have made a firm offer of contract employment to one of many applicants for the ROSET technical assistant position. Processing has begun. We have identified several promising applicants for the position of communications engineer and have begun setting up interviews. Finally we have agreed to interview and test a British applicant for a Chinese monitor position at the Okinawa Bureau.
- C. The new Embassy wagescale was implemented for our local employees effective 10 January. The question of how to administer "shift disturbance pay" is still undecided, and the bureau chief is continuing discussions with Embassy officers on this subject.

- D. A second big snowstorm accompanied by high winds and record low temperatures hit the UK on 8-9 January; snow in the Caversham area measured 9-12 inches. In view of Stateside weather woes this month, we can't complain.

II. OPERATIONS

A. Editorial/Monitorial

1. Poland watching continued to be the main preoccupation at Caversham. BBC maintained an open watch on Warsaw Domestic throughout most of the month, and most of the media that had disappeared or been modified with the imposition of martial law returned to the airwaves and stabilized. The first sitting of the Sejm under martial law came on the 25th and 26th, and although the radio did not follow its past practice of relaying the sessions live, it carried numerous reports and recordings of the proceedings, including a 100-minute speech by Jaruzelski that the bureau refiled to the Haig party in Geneva at immediate precedence. A subsequent meeting of the Council of Ministers approved price increases for food, fuel and electricity -- a move that might have sparked a demonstration in Gdansk on 30 January that left almost a dozen injured and over 200 detained. The first report of the disturbance was filed from Warsaw radio the next day, but attempts to cover the Gdansk regional station for unique information proved fruitless due to unmonitorable reception. With the most welcome assistance of the Austrian Bureau, the BBC conducted a week's survey of the domestic service's second program, which made its reappearance on the 17th. Several casts have been placed on regular coverage and details reported to FCS. During the survey, PMU canceled the leave plans of its Polish monitor and made special efforts to assist in Polish press processing.
- ✓ 2. Coverage of the events surrounding the death of Mikhail Suslov, formerly number two in the Kremlin hierarchy, reconfirmed the value of Soviet television monitoring. All television footage was recorded and airfreighted to Headquarters for assessment; an advance editorial report on TV coverage of the lying in state, which detailed the leadership lineup, formed the basis of an AG analysis note suggesting that Chernenko had moved up to second position. Several commentaries and a "Studio Nine" program on international topics were also taken via satellite, with bureau, BBC and Okinawa monitors sharing the processing.

3. The unstable situation in the Sudan and the spotty reception of its radio at EAU and Mideast bureaus offered another opportunity for use of the ROSET antenna: On the 26th, the bureau, with the help of a BBC Arabic monitor, covered Omdurman radio and television for about an hour, filing a program summary of the radio's signoff newscast and reporting no unusual behavior by either. Other efforts by the Arabic team included coverage of Tripoli's live relay of a 4-day session of Libya's General People's Congress; the bureau moved a series of 16 FYIs on the proceedings as well as speeches by Al-Qadhdhafi and others.
4. Satellite coverage of Soviet television was regularized during the month, with bureau monitors taking the 1800 Vremya newscast daily and the International Panorama program every Sunday. PMU was assigned responsibility for regular scrutiny of GOVORIT I POKAZYVAYET MOSKVA, translating TV schedules for the benefit of ROSET cruisers and feature articles on merit for regular wirefiling. [] chief of PMU, was charged with scanning the schedules as listed in GOVORIT as well as those in PRAVDA and KRASNAYA ZVEZDA for special programming of interest. On the basis of this preliminary selection list, the bureau's chief editor, [] lays on special coverage. Coverage of the monthly features is being coordinated with Okinawa, which normally handles flash coverage while London bureau and/or BBC monitors provide fuller processing. Meanwhile, cruising of the non-Soviet satellites has begun in earnest, and a number of cruising messages have been filed. Experimental use of a 1-meter dish on loan to the bureau proved fruitless.
5. With the resignation of PMU's Persian monitor, coverage of the Iranian press was transferred to the Gulf Bureau effective 1 February. Since these papers are not available at Gulf, London Bureau will maintain its subscriptions and airmail the papers to the Gulf Bureau.

1. On the 14th the unit processed a lengthy government statement read to the Bundestag by Chancellor Schmidt on events in Poland and Schmidt's talks with President Reagan at the beginning of the month.

-4-

2. Several editorial reports were filed on television and press programs charging the United States with duplicity and double standards in its actions toward Poland.

STAT

C. Islamabad Unit

London Bureau Staff Engineer [] visited the unit 18-20 January on TDY to trouble shoot the equipment because of problems with the outgoing signal. The adjustments he made appear to have resolved the problem. Shortly thereafter, the BBC conducted a reception survey of the casts on Islamabad's coverage, using the remote receiver at Caversham. Results will be forwarded to FCS.

D. Engineering

1. The new NEC Neefax facsimile machines have been installed in Vienna and Caversham. Copy is now very much improved over that provided by the Siemens machines, and PMU monitors are most pleased.
